Y.U.
BRANCHES OUT!

....BUT THE TREE IN THE DRIVEWAY ENTRANCE STILL STANDS!

The past two years under the energetic leadership of Dr. Isaac K. Beckes saw rapid strides at Vincennes University. The new Curtis G. Shake Library was dedicated in December, 1960, giving the University its first building devoted exclusively to library facilities. The largest addition to the new campus since it was occupied in 1953 was made when the University acquired the old Hack and Simon property, adjoining the previous holdings. Equipment for Vincennes University's own television station was obtained and plans were pushed forward to put V.U. on the air. Plans for the University's first dormitory were under development and Robert E. Green announced that he would build a new physical education building on the site of the present athletic field. On the academic side, the first class graduated from the Department of Nursing in the summer of 1960 and the members took their places in the profession. The spring of 1961 saw the first graduates from the new Department of Technology. It was another two years of solid progress at V.U.

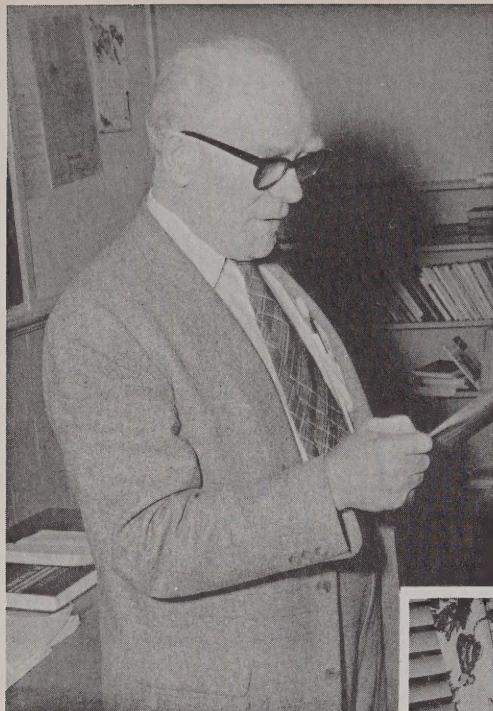

Standing: (left to right) Stephen Violante, Business Manager; Robert E. Green, Robert Graham, Jr., Maurice E. Gosnell, Rene J. Dognaux, Sr., Clarence J. McCormick, Dr. Isaac K. Beckes, Robert V. Bierhaus, Sr., Joseph V. Riley, John Snyder, Rabb Emison. Seated: Ralph T. Brengle, Florence G. Watts, Orville T. Stout, Estelle Emison, Max Strashun, Doris Albrecht, Controller, and Edith May, Administrative Assistant to Dr. Beckes.

Not present when the picture was taken: Board President Curtis G. Shake, Governor Matthew E. Welsh, Byron R. Lewis, Dr. Nathaniel D. Ewing, Dr. John B. Anderson, Edward Kuhn, Lloyd A. Allen, Glen Bretz, Albert Rosenberg, Robert J. Hyatt.

Mr. Robert E. Green, is a member of the board and a great benefactor of the University. He has given us the auditorium and the new gym, the newest branches of V.U.

Vincennes University's Circle K Club, following its motto of 'We Build' by promoting service projects for the school and the community, provided an active program of activities for men on the campus during the past school year.

Led by Herb Elliott, the president, Circle K gave both money and time whenever a need arose, whether it be for V.U. or the city.

The club aided citizens of the community the Muscular Dystrophy drive last fall, taking time out from the Thanksgiving vacation to complete the drive, and in the spring, joined with other V.U. organizations to aid the Multiple Sclerosis drive. Also, the club contributed to the Y.M.C.A. annual membership canvass.

Its sponsoring group, the Kiwanis club of Vincennes, heard Herb Elliott tell of Circle K's projects at a program this spring.

On campus, Circle K along with Alpha Theta Chi co-sponsored one of the most popular social events of the year, the 'Oblivion Blast'.

As a final contribution, Circle K awarded at the Honor's Day convo a $100. scholarship to Don Sheley, who will be a second year student next fall. The awarding of the scholarship is an annual project of the club.

Football games, initiation, and the international convention gave the club rewards for its duties. Circle K joined Gamma Tau in giving the campus a very 'informal' presentation of rag-tag football last fall.

Initiation for new members proved amusing both for members and non-members alike. And this summer, several V.U. members will head toward St. Petersburg, Fla., for the convention and 'fun in the sun'.

Other campus activities of the club included sponsorship of the V.U. Sweetheart for 1961, Miss Sue Ellen Joyce, and assistance for the annual Book Fair held this spring.

Besides Elliott, Officers were: Steve Tolbert, vice-president; Chuck Low, treasurer; and Paul Borden, secretary. Terry Allen took over treasurer's duties the second semester when Low transferred to another school.

The 1960-61 membership of Circle K met the standards set by the club in past year's, and the returning members are capable of surpassing these marks already attained.

1960-61 Basketball

Vincennes University's Trailblazers bounced back from a so-so 11 won, 9 lost record in 1959-60 to rack up 21 victories against 9 defeats in the past season.

Joining the Kentuckiana Junior College Conference for the first year, the Blazers led the circuit for several weeks only to stumble to second place.

Buddy Graham of Odon, Ind., a freshman, led all scorers with 596 points in 29 of the 30 games played. Graham was ably given scoring assists from Ron Cooper, a Robinson, Ill., graduate, and Ron Russell, a Lincoln high school product.

The squad that finished the season had but two second year players, Bill Keneipp and Andy Gainer. Besides Graham, Cooper, and Russell, Don Funneman, Ed Hardiek, Brayton Simmons, and Bill McCoy all were seeing their first action for V.U.

Honors were in order at the close of the season. Graham was unanimously selected by coaches for the All-KJCC team, and Simmons and Starks received honorable mention. Graham also was picked for the all-tourney team, and Coach Bradfield placed third in voting for "Coach of the Year."

Close, but not close enough, described Vincennes University's performance in the Region XII JC tournament at Flint, Mich. last week.

After drubbing Bay City, 97-75, on March 2. the Blazers were edged by Grand Rapids, Michigan, 86-84, on a last second bucket.

It marked the third straight year that the Blazers had been eliminated by three or less points. Last year it was a one-point loss, and the year before a three-point overtime defeat.

At Year's End...

The Robert E. Green Auditorium was filled to capacity for baccalaureate exercises as the class filed into the building. Speaker was the Reverend Doctor Edward Duncan, chaplain of the Newman Foundation at the University of Illinois. Graduation was moved indoors to the Adams Coliseum because of bad weather. The scheduled Speaker, Governor Matthew E. Welsh, couldn't be present when his plane was grounded in Texas.

Outstanding year-end event was the Senior Prom, in the Robert E. Green Auditorium. Gloria Miller was crowned queen by James McGuire, president of the freshman class. Prom decorations carried out an Oriental theme.

ACTIVITIES

1960

Learning the Ropes. . .

Student organizations such as Alpha Theta Chi helped the students coming to the campus in the fall of 1959 get acquainted with campus life and procedure. Alpha Theta Chi pledges are shown some of the outfits required on consecutive days during the initiation period.

A more informal type of get-acquainted activity is student discussion over refreshments in the Trailblazer Room. Here students from all parts of the Vincennes University area have a chance to meet and make new friends.

Vincennes University's dramatic organization put on Sheridan's classic comedy, 'The Rivals,' in 1901, with the original cast shown at the left in costume. The play was revived by the V.U. Playhouse in the fall of 1959 under the direction of Amy G. Loomis--a lapse of 58 years for the durable work.

Something Old. . .

Something New. . .

The spring production in 1960 by the Playhouse was in a more modern vein and in a different mood--'The Mousetrap', a mystery thriller by Agatha Christie. Members of the cast are shown in rehearsal.

Line forms on the right--for the big Christmas dinner. Seniors were served in the Student Union, and freshmen (above) in the Administration Building. Following the dinner, a convocation was held in the Auditorium with Santa Claus making his annual visit to the faculty.

A Student Senate committee decorates the traditional Christmas tree in the Terrace Room to put the campus in a holiday mood. Assisting are Ginger Hawkins, Donna Holman, Chuck Roche and Wayne Schuler.

The 1959-60 edition of the Trailblazers was a high-scoring club, passing the 100 mark in five games. The season opened with tragedy, John Combs of Washington losing his life in a highway accident on the eve of the opening game. Bill Keneipp of Owensville was moved to the varsity to take John's place. Ed Neal of Freelandville, Greg Frey and Jim Anton, both of Vincennes, also saw action for the Blazers in the last portion of the campaign.

Visitors...

Members of the DePauw University Orchestra visited the campus for a convocation concert--one of the musical high points of the year. After the concert, the orchestra members were guests of V.U. at a reception in the Blue Room.

Two Beatnik visitors from "Wayoutsville" entertained at a convo honoring the basketball team. They were later identified as V.U.'s own Sammy Coomer and Becky Wade of the senior class.

The Pep Band, which added zip to convocations and basketball games, was launched during the 1959-60 year. The informal musical group was led by student director Bruce Goodwin and was sponsored by Charles Tolson and Stephen Violante.

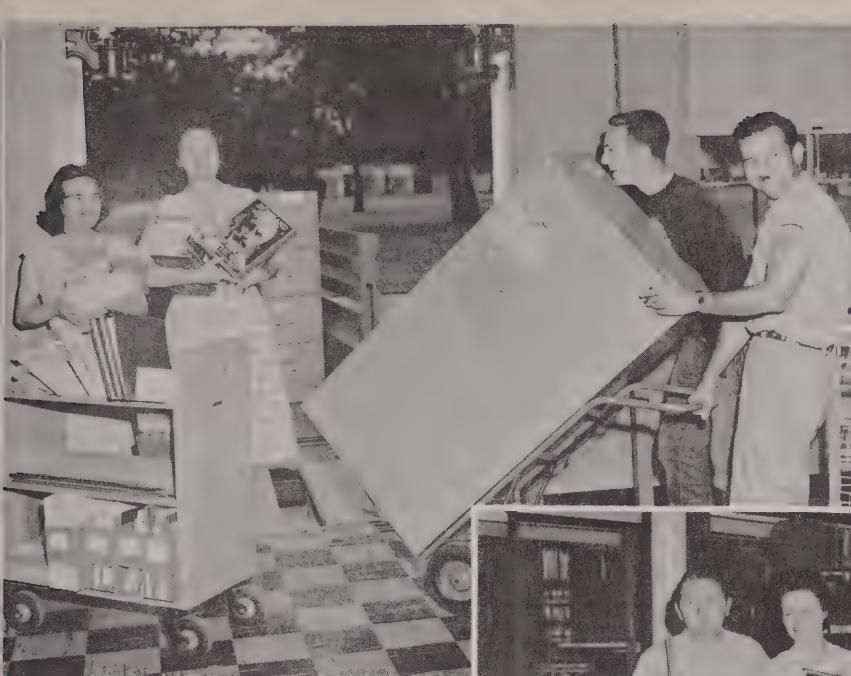

Three New Projects

The Paperback Book Fair, now established an annual fixture on the calendar, was started in the spring of 1960. One of the largest of its kind anywhere, the fair featured over 5000 titles in a varied showing in the Robert E. Green Auditorium.

Three new technical programs, Engineering Technology, Electronics Technology and Drafting Technology, were inaugurated in 1959-60. Shown is Professor Robert Chiang in his drafting classroom.

Anthonette Kocher, Librarian Sybil Modglin, Bob May and Bud May move the last library books and equipment from the old library area in the Science Building...

...and place the books and equipment in the new library, ready for the fall term in 1960. They are joined by Sandy Jones, left, maintenance superintendent.

Out of the Old. . . Into the New. . .

One of the most important campus changes took place when the new library was made ready for use. The library was all set for "business" for the fall term of 1960.

George Rogers Clark, right, member of the Class of 1960, points to a picture of the famous Revolutionary War general for whom he was named. He explains some of the area's historical background to Umeko Kagawa of Japan, secretary of World Youth Projects for the World Council of Churches, the baccalaureate speaker.

The traditional academic procession at commencement exercises at the George Rogers Clark State Memorial. Speaker at the 1960 exercises was Dr. Gerald E. Knoff, executive secretary, Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., bringing the academic year to an impressive close.
